IRIS CULTURE

Iris will grow best in a well drained soil. They will not tolerate wet feet. They do well in any type of soil from sand to clay. We have found that compost in the soil under the Iris, with the addition of a little super-phosphate will permit the roots to permeate the soil, and thus produce larger rhizomes and better flowers. We plant the rhizomes with the fan to the north and the tip of the rhizome to the south, with about one inch of soil over the top. Never let any manure touch the rhizome. Iris will take some fertilizing if you are careful. Plant Iris from one foot to 18 inches apart.

Water well when first planted. Do not over water when well established. Keep soil clean from weeds and rubbish. Rhizome rot is caused by wet soil and warmth. When the leaves wither, dig out rot from rhizome with a spoon, put gypsum, permanganate or sulphur on the clean surface and leave open to the sun. We like Carco-X as a spray and dip and fumigant.

Our Iris rhizomes this year are extra good. The virgin soil with plenty of minerals have made fine, husky plants, which will produce lovely flowers next year for you.

Each year we give our customers the advantage of our Sale of Iris rhizomes. These are the usual large plants that we send out each season.

After July 1 we will sell, while they last, all Iris at one-half price, (except those marked "Net" which are in short supply). You must pay transportation. You may order early and reserve for this sale.

Orders will be filled in rotation as received. If sold out of any variety, your money will be refunded. Please send a substitute list.

California customers, please add the 4% State Sales Tax.

GREETINGS FOR 1959

From Yucaipa, California, where we have moved our Iris Garden. We have looked for several years for a place where we could grow hardy, vigorous Iris, equal to those we have shipped you these past years.

At Yucaipa, with an elevation of nearly 3000 feet in the foothills of the High Sierras, with virgin soil, filled with minerals, we have found "The Place." Frost and a little snow in winter, with heat in summer make ideal conditions for sturdy plants. We know you will be satisfied with our rhizomes and the quality blooms they will produce.

We guarantee all stock true to name. If for any reason your rhizomes do not prove satisfactory, please write us about them and we will do our best to satisfy you.

If stock is sold out, we will refund your money. Terms are cash with order. We begin shipping July 1. California residents please add tax.

Thank you old friends, for your fine orders and to our new customers, we hope you will give us a chance to please you.

Best wishes for a fine Iris season.
